

Child Language Doctoral Program

University of Kansas

Checklist of Supporting Documents

Each applicant should receive a packet of information that includes the following items:

1. Description of Program taken from Graduate School Catalog (see brochure)
2. List of Participating Faculty and their interests
3. Child Language Doctoral Program Application Form
4. Three copies of form for requesting Letters of Recommendation
5. Graduate School application form (please return this to the Graduate School directly)

Send these supporting documents to the Child Language Doctoral Program, in addition to the Application Form and fee:

1. A curriculum vita
2. A list of all courses taken in relevant areas such as child development, linguistics, psychology, special education, and speech and hearing sciences
3. A personal statement describing the applicant's interests in studying child language and professional goals
4. Two official transcripts
5. Three letters of recommendation
6. Scores from the Graduate Record Examinations*
7. Scores from the Test of English as a Foreign Language for those applicants whose first language is not English*

Fees:

Paper application -- $55 domestic students and $60 international students

Online application -- $45 domestic students and $55 international students

*Both GRE and TOEFL examinations should have been taken within the last two years.

updated 6/04